Plenum discussion.

- Questions, comments, or notes?

Walk-through of possible implementation.

- How did I (Jenni) approach it?

- NB: If you want to see the code in more detail, come by office hours and the TAs can show it to you again.
  - I'd prefer no pictures today. But if you want a picture of something, come talk to me after class.

Final bits and bobs

Grading, course feedback, homework.

Grading.

- Instructors and TAs will collate peer feedback and perform our own grading.
  - Instructors take a final decision on grade
- Hope to have grades released early in Week 8 (around March 24).
- If a group has only a small mistake resulting in a failed grade, will receive a “conditional pass”.
  - Will be asked to resubmit by March 29th.

Questions on grading/logistics?

Time to give us feedback.

- Your only homework: midterm evaluation!

- Please fill out at least MCQ of the midterm evaluation today.
  - Eval also has a section specifically about codecamp project. How can we improve it?

- I will collate the results and present them plus my analysis next week.
  - May change how course is taught for the remainder of the semester.

- Goal: very high participation (>90%).

Now: start your homework.

- Go to evaluering.dtu.dk, fill out at least MCQs of the midterm evaluation.
  - Other parts appreciated.
  - Remember to give good feedback!
  - Deadline is today.

evaluering.dtu.dk

- Please keep quiet-ish in rooms for next few minutes.

- When you have submitted your evaluation...GET OUTTA HEEAAHH.
  - Enjoy a week free of 46120 tasks.
  - Start thinking about teams for final project. 😉
